PRESS RELEASE

Friday 6 March 2009

BRANTWOOD OPENS A NEW FACILITY FOR CORPORATE ENTERTAINING & EVENTS - The Eyrie

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OPENING LAUNCH - 4.00pm - 6.00pm Thursday 26 March 2009

Overlooking Coniston Water with spectacular views of Coniston Old Man, there is no more atmospheric place than Brantwood for a business meeting or training event. Experience John Ruskin's legacy and inspiration at Brantwood, the most beautifully situated house in the Lake District. Renowned as a writer, artist, poet and thinker, Ruskin's home is a treasure house of art and memorabilia, reflecting the huge variety of his interests. A true 'blue-sky' thinker, Ruskin's ideas still resonate today.

Our new conference facility, The Eyrie, located on the upper floor has amazing views across Coniston Water. The conference room is fully equipped for presentations, meetings or training events. Other rooms are also available as breakout spaces. Brantwood's extensive woodland estate and lake shore offer ample opportunity for team building activities.

The Eyrie can accommodate up to 40 people, depending on the arrangement required for the space. The hire rate is negotiable depending on the individual requirements and size of each group. Light refreshments can be provided direct from Brantwood or through booking with the Jumping Jenny restaurant on site at Brantwood.

"In The Eyrie we have finally managed to fulfil our dream to have a place for learning that is as inspiring and thoughtful as the man it honours. Our aim is to serve the meaning of Ruskin's motto 'Today' in every way." Howard Hull, Director

Notes to Editors: Brantwood is an independent registered charity; The Chairman of the Management Committee is Tony Cann CBE.

Please Note - access to the conference rooms is via a set of steps. There is free car parking in Brantwood's main car park or delegates can arrange to use the Coniston Launch ferry service to arrive at the Brantwood jetty from across the Water.
